The Legend of Goffredo

Many people in Travagliato know a local legend about a ghost called Goffredo.

According to the story, Goffredo lives in the old building that is now the library.

Nobody knows if the story is true. It is only a legend, but it makes the library even more interesting and mysterious.

Today Goffredo is part of the local traditions and helps children discover the history of the old Vantini building.

Why do we like the library?

The library is a wonderful place because:

- we can read interesting books;
- we can study quietly;
- we can learn new things;
- we can meet other readers;
- we can take part in activities and events

Welcome to Travagliato library

Piazzale Ospedale, 9

A special building

The library is in Piazzale Ospedale 9.  It is a very important place for our town. People can read books, study, borrow books and learn many new things. The library has more than 50,000 books for children and adults.

The library building is very old and beautiful.

Many years ago, it was a hospital. Today it is a library, but we can still remember its history.

The architect who designed the building was Rodolfo Vantini, a famous architect from Brescia. He designed many important buildings in our area.
